ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AS ARREST NEARS

Prominent Philadelphian Is Taken in Custody On Serious Charge

IN BUCKS CO. PRISON

DOYLESTOWN, June 20.—The manager of a large Philadelphia printing and lithograph firm, Clarence H. Brown, 62, was arrested this week by state police of Doylestown barracks on a serious charge. According to police, Brown, when arrested, was abed at his fashionable apartment in the 3900 block on Walnut street, after allegedly having attempted to end his life.

The warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice of the Peace Russell B. Gulick. A criminal offense involving a 17-year-old Danboro youth is charged.

Troopers Mitchell and Shovelin made the arrest.

The troopers say that Brown, late Monday night, evidently heard that the police were on his trail, and that he attempted to commit suicide by slashing his wrists with a small razor blade and by taking some type of pills. He was ill in bed when the troopers arrived at his apartment with the warrant.

Brown was treated at the office of a Doylestown physician upon his arrival here, and was then committed to Bucks County Prison, without bail for a hearing.

The offense, it is alleged in the information, was committed in the Danboro section on May 24 and at divers other times. Police say that Brown has been spending week-ends and holidays in the Danboro section with friends for some time.

G. O. P. PROMISES KEPT

The Republican promises made in the Congressional campaigns last year now have been largely carried out.

The G. O. P. candidates promised to pass a tax-reduction bill. They did so—a bill which would have cut the taxes of the average American 20 per cent, and those of the lesser-paid citizens by 30 per cent.

They promised to pass laws which would prevent any recurrence of the labor violence which marked the first year of post-war conditions under President Truman. The Labor Bill has been passed.

They promised to outlaw the portal-to-portal suits. This has been done, and the President, with a lot of sour comments on the subject, signed the measure.

They promised to slash heavily the spending programs of the Federal government. The bulk of this has been accomplished. Under existing appropriation measures, savings have been effected which, added to surpluses in sight, would easily have covered the tax cuts vetoed by the President—and left a balance to apply to the national debt.

The Republicans promised to un-regiment the American people by doing away with the war-controls, to which the Executive Branch was clinging tenaciously. The worst of these have been wiped out—some by Congressional action, others by the President himself before Congress could act.

Congress is part of a team, so far as the Government is concerned. It can do only so much. It can't run the whole show, disregarding the President, any more than the President himself can function as he wishes without heading Congress.

When Congress passed these bills, with many other lesser ones which might be included, and laid them on the President's desk, then it had done its full part.

The Republicans have kept their faith with the American people. The laws it promised last year were enacted.

The fact that key bills were ruthlessly vetoed, for political motives, is not a matter over which the Republicans had any control, and for which they cannot be blamed.

At no time during the long discussion of these matters did President Truman offer any help or guidance to Congress. On the contrary, he muddled the water with a series of conflicting and misleading reports on financial matters, and encouraged his staff to unruly and high-handed resistance to Congressional inquiries.

ORDINANCE COVERING METERS IS ADOPTED

300 Will Be Installed In Doylestown; Streets Now
Under Repair

LAND IS CONDEMNED

DOYLESTOWN, June 20.—A parking meter ordinance was adopted by Doylestown borough council this week. It is announced that within 30 to 60 days parking meters will be installed.

Council also passed on first and second reading, the public parking lot ordinance calling for the condemnation of land in the central section of town by eminent domain proceedings. The land now belongs to The Pine Company and to other individuals, and is located in the rear of the Doylestown Armory between Union street and North Main street.

Another ordinance dealing with parking, and the location of one-side parking and no parking areas, was amended to fit in with the meter ordinance.

Another important step taken was authorization of the appointment of a special committee of council, in conference with the Board of Adjustment, to study Doylestown's present zoning ordinance, to bring it up to date and to recommend and name suggested changes at a special meeting to be called by Council President George F. Smith.

Council also okayed the application of the Stringer Construction Company for the erection of a 20-unit apartment off Lacey avenue on new Davis road, adjacent to the American Legion home. Application for the right to erect this structure was before the Board of Adjustment recently and referred to council for final action, because of the fact the present zoning classification of that section does not allow for multiple unit construction.

The successful bidder for parking meters was the Magee-Hale Parking Meter Company of Oklahoma. The contract was awarded for the installation of meters made by that company for $45 each installed. There will be approximately 300 meters installed.

Council members were again informed that home-owners in the vicinity of the rubber mill had again entered complaints about the black soot that covers their properties, allegedly causing damage. Two members of council said they had personally investigated complaints and found them to be correct; that "the condition is bad," and that something should be done to eliminate the condition. A further investigation will be made.

Councilman G. Thawley Hayman, chairman of the street committee, reported that work on widening of Main street will get started just as soon as the street oiling program is finished. He also stated that it is planned to resurface Main street through the widened section, with a black top similar to that used on some Philadelphia streets. This will not make it necessary to remove the trolley rails and will be very satisfactory.

4 Residents Get "Vets" Donations Returned

Four contributors to the quartette of veterans soliciting money with which they said they were going to send reading matter to hospitalized veterans in Walter Reed Hospital, received their money back yesterday.

The four Bristol residents received $1.50, $1.50 cents and 25 cents, respectively, from the police.

The veterans were ordered from the borough by police on Wednesday. They had been soliciting money here about 15 minutes when the police caught up with them. They were ordered to give the police what money they had collected in Bristol and also the receipt stubs. Those who gave the money can have the money refunded by calling at the police headquarters and producing corresponding receipts.

A woman called the police here yesterday and said that she resided in Croydon. She had read in yesterday's Courier about the solicitors being ordered from town. She wanted to know if she could have $5 refunded which she had given the men. Police here told her that they did not have any receipts from other than Bristol residents. "Well, I guess I'm stuck," she said.

BICYCLISTS SUGGEST WHEEL REGISTRATION

Members of 2 Clubs, Bath Street School, Write To Chief of Police

"HIKES" ARE ENJOYED

A suggestion that bicycles in Bristol be registered with police officials has come from members of two bicycle clubs at Bath street public school.

The suggestion is in the form of a letter which members have sent to Chief of Police Linford J. Jones, the pupils expressing the thought that violations might thus be more readily checked.

Bicycle "hikes" occupied attention of members of the two clubs of Bath street school this week. Twenty-four members of the senior club took their "hike" on Monday and 16 members of the junior club enjoyed theirs on Tuesday.

The "wheelmen" rode several miles through the countryside, observing traffic regulations en route. A stop was made by each group at a nearby farm for "doggie" roasts. It was during informal meetings that members decided to write a letter to Bristol's chief of police.

Linford J. Jones, suggesting that bicycles in Bristol borough be registered so that violations on the part of cyclists might be checked more readily. All members of the clubs signed the letter.

The pupils were accompanied on the trips by the club's sponsor, Mrs. Edward Sabol.

Excellent Dance Revue Is Eagerly Anticipated

An excellent dance revue is planned by Miss Sara Granow, at the Grand Theatre, this evening. The planning, staging and costuming of this revue is said to be "quite different." The opening act, called "Stars of Yesterday," is supposedly in Tony Pastor's Theatre in New York City in the "Gay Nineties." As was the custom in those early days, Act 1 opens with "The Tumblers," followed by impersonations of many great stars of bygone days, such as Pat Rooney, Tom Patricola, Singer's Midgets, George M. Cohan, and many others. An interesting scene in this act is called "Gus Edwards' Revue" and features the small tots dressed as bunnies, which are suits made of white plush, with pink pom-poms for tails and enormous ears. The tiny tots sing, as well as dance, in this scene.

The second act is called "Stars of Today," featuring excerpts from many of the present Broadway shows, such as "Up in Central Park," "Oklahoma," "Bloomer Girl," and many others. "The Magic Bubbles" features costumes of rainbow hues with participants filling the stage with "magic bubbles" as they are dancing. Another interesting scene has 33 participants dressed as zebras with long swishing tails, all doing acrobatic and tumbling stunts at the same time. In a scene taken from the "Skating Follies," one of the cast does a difficult dance on roller skates. The ballet in this act is acclaimed "beautiful," the participants making flowers grow on the stage as if by magic, with others twirling parasols and dancing among some garbed in ballet costumes to represent spring flowers.

Act 3, entitled "Stars of Tomorrow," depicts the present day dances, with the students on graduation day showing what they have learned in their sojourn in the "College of Dance Knowledge." The steps in ballet and tap are demonstrated by individual pupils and also the method of training for a pupil studying to be a dancer. Many visitors from other lands show the dances native to their country at the request of the teacher.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

HOUSE OVERRIDES VETO

Washington—The House today overrode President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley Labor Bill. The vote was 331 to 83, 55 more than required to override. The House ignored the chief executive's warning that the measure would sow "seeds of discord which would plague the nation for years to come." The vote was well over the 2/3 majority necessary to override. The Senate is expected to act on the President's veto tomorrow. Republican Senate leaders and southern Democrats predict the upper branch also will override the veto which will make the Taft-Hartley measure law. Administration leaders say the vote in the Senate will be close.

Truman Vetoes Labor Reform Bill

Washington—President Truman vetoed the Taft-Hartley labor reform bill today in a 5,000 word message to the House. The Chief Executive declared that legislation dealing with labor-management relations "is necessary" but that the Taft-Hartley bill "would be a dangerous stride in the direction of a totally managed economy" and goes far beyond actual needs. Mr. Truman said that the Labor Bill would reverse the basic direction of the country's labor policy. He said it contained "seeds of discord which would plague the nation for years to come."

The President declared: "The bill taken as a whole would reverse the basic direction of our national labor policy, inject the government into private economic affairs on an unprecedented scale, and conflict with important principles of our democratic society. Its provisions would cause more strikes, not fewer. It would contribute neither to industrial peace nor to economic stability and progress."

FOOD A NICKEL A DAY

A person could eat well on $15 a year if not particular what the food tasted like. That is the implication of a report made by Dr. Robert S. Harris, director of the Nutritional Biochemistry Laboratories at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Harris told a New York legislative committee that food mixtures of vegetable origin would give "complete and balanced nutrition" at a per capita cost of $15 a year. That is less than a nickel a day.

"Of course," he added as an after thought, "no one would want to live on this fodder."

It has been said, quite truly,
that the United States cannot feed the entire world. It would cost too much, and this nation can not produce enough food. But if it is possible to feed people even a tasteless mess that is good for them at only $15 a year each, the American taxpayers' money could be stretched farther and more lives could be saved.

In fact, the thought intrudes
that if these people could be fed for $15 a year each, perhaps they could raise that much money themselves.

Some scientists will quarrel with Dr. Harris' statement that a high percentage of foods of animal origin is not necessary to perfect nutrition. The matter has not been finally determined. Studies of the nutritional necessity of the amino-acids, now under way,
may or may not bring definite, final answers. But hunger will not wait on speculation, and Dr.
Harris' diet sounds like something that needs to be tried now.

DEFLATED "BLIMP"

In the current exchange of uncomplimentary remarks between the Federal Trade Commission and United Artists over the latter's advertising of "The Life and Death of Colonel Blimp," it is revealed again how concerned the bureaucrats are with the conduct of business.

The FTC alleges that U. A., after importing the British-made film for distribution in the United States, had so much footage cut out of it that the running time of two hours and a half was reduced 40 per cent. But it was the original version which was shown to the critics, the FTC alleges,
and their reviews of the longer opis were used in advertising the bob-tailed version.

The president of U. A., Edward C. Rafferty, replies that this "is just another attempt by a government body to tell a producer whether he can cut a picture. The commission has the silly idea that when a film is cut you are short-changing the public."

Those Washington bureaucrats can be highly technical without half trying, which accounts in part for the fact the public frequently is convinced it is short-changed when it is compelled to pay their salaries.

This would seem a good time for a retake of that Truman lodge brother handshake—in which he accomplishes the feat of grabbing the paws of four persons simultaneously.

G. O. P. Promises Kept

The Republican record of performance, its adherence to its campaign promises, is the silver lining to a situation otherwise dark.

The present crisis is bad. Once again our government has been stymied. It has been brought closer than ever to a breakdown. Presidential encroachment on Congress' authority has penetrated to its deepest extent.

Inflation has been re-stimulated by the President's tax veto.
A nation already tax-poor is being denied relief almost imperi-tively needed for proper recovery. The foreign situation grows steadily worse; we are blundering towards, if not actually into, a new World War III. The American people are rapidly losing the power of directing their own affairs. No one has cause for glee except the Communists.

But it is something to know that there is still one political party which believes in keeping its promises.

If there is a majority of citizens in this nation who want to preserve the American system, who cling to Constitutional freedom and fear the consequences of our present drift towards Communism, then they now can know where to turn.

They now have proof that there is available to them a political party willing to stick by its word—willing to run the nation on the basis of what's best for the whole country, not what policies will reap temporary vote-support.

The Republican performance is in bright contrast with that of the New Deal. The Democratic record at Washington is one of false promises, of broken faith, of waste and extravagance, of trying to hide colossal blunders under still more colossal propaganda.

Fourteen years ago the New Deal started out with a President who had campaigned on a pledge to "stop the deficits" and "cut Federal spending 25 per cent." He had also got very indignant when his opponent had accused him of planning to inflate our currency by going off the gold standard.

Those three promises went out the window with his inauguration. So have all other promises which the New Deal has made from time to time—down to and including the promise of President Truman to permit Congress to exercise the law-making functions granted it by the Constitution.

The Republican Party can go into the crucial coming elections of next year with a clean record and a clear conscience.

On the first major assignment in the national government given it by the American voters since 1932, it has come through with flying colors.

It kept the faith!

BADENHAUSEN LOSES TO ST. ANN'S BY SCORE OF 10 TO 1

Victory is The 14th Win For St. Ann's Team
Here

CLARK ON THE MOUND

Badenhausen Used Three Pitchers in Effort To Halt Defeat

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 20 —Allowing Badenhausen but one "Kenny" Clark hurled St. Ann's A. A. to its fourteenth win of the Bristol Suburban League last evening on the Bensalem school field. For four cantos, Clark held the batter-makers hitless. Then with two on and two out in the fifth, "Kenny" Clifton chopped a hit between first and second for the only single and also the only run. Clark had nine strike-outs to his credit and walked two batters.

Badenhausen used three mound-men. Paul Leighton started and went out when he could not retire the side in the second. "Charlie" Martindell relieved him. Martindell was taken out in the sixth and Paul Dean finished.

In the second frame, the "Saints" scored eight runs on five hits and three passes.

Leading the St. Ann's aggregation with the stick was "Sugar" Sallustio who banged out three singles in four trips to the plate. Bert Barbetta played a fine defensive game for the winners.

Soby Post Nine Wins Fifth Game

The fast going Soby Post team won its fifth straight game last evening on the Third Ward field, defeating the Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 6-4. The triumph enabled the Soby men to be in a position to climb higher in the race and vacate the cellar of the first division.

"Pete" Everitt allowed the Ward-ers but five safe blows in pitching the Langhorne team to its triumph. Errors made Everitt's job harder but in the pinches he proved invincible. Twice during the Fifth Ward rallies in the fourth and sixth, "Pete" pushed the third strike across the batter to retire the side. Leading the Soby stickmen in the tilt was Levi Derry who had two singles in three trips up.

Henry Liberatore pitched for the losers, it being his fifth mound loss. Line-ups:

In Memoriam

AITA—Mildred, loving memory of a dear daughter, who died June 20, 1929. Sad and sudden was the call of one so dear and loved by all. Her loving heart had ceased to beat. Before we knew it she was gone! A bitter grief, a shock never to be forgotten. To part with one we loved so dear. God loved her, too, and thought it best. So he took her home to eternal rest. But only those who loved her best can tell. Those heartaches of not saying a last farewell. Sadly missed by MOTHER DAD, SIS AND BUB.

Sportsmen's Briefs

By JOE ELBERSON

Big one... the seven Bristol men who fished out of Brille last Sunday were having a wonderful time catching mackerel. As a matter of fact, they already had hooked and landed 210 fish when the fish suddenly refused to bite.

The captain, who had the party ashore about 20 miles, knew the answer. He took the heaviest line aboard and secured a mackerel to the end, threw the line over the side of the boat, secured the other end firmly to the boat, and waited.

The wait was a brief one and when the strike came it shook the boat. It was a 230 pound mackerel. And it took two members of the party, Joseph Fioravanti and Frank Clott, Jr., to finally pull the shark alongside the boat.

That wasn't the end, however. It took another hour to get the big fish over the side of the boat. It weighed seven and a half feet in length.

In the party that experienced this catch were: Joseph Fioravanti, Frank Clott, Jr., Frank Clott, Jr., Armand Clott and Michael Perrone.

Double honors... to a local doggie racer, Nuncio Rubino, went double honors last Sunday when two of his bounties won prizes at the Fourth Annual Outing of the Garden State Beagle Club, held near Riverton, N. J.

In the puppy class Rubino's "Nancy" came in first out of a field of 80 dogs, both 15" and 15" classes being entered.

Second place honors were awarded Rubino's "Bash" in the all-age 15 and 15 inch classes.

Thirty entrants vied in this contest. These were bench show honors and not field trial contests.

Meeting... next Tuesday evening, June 24th, the Edgely Rod & Gun Club will meet at 8 o'clock in the Headley Manor Fire House, Open house, as usual, for all interested sportsmen.

Windy waters... It took a hundred-mile trip last week-end to convince Geo. Colville and me that when it rains in Bucks County it is also likely to rain in Pike County. We went up for the opening of the pike and bass season on the Delaware. It rained all the way up and it rained some when we arrived. The water didn't look too bad so we gave it a try. We hadn't been out very long when the river took on a real chocolate color.

Yes, the big river eels were biting. So were the fallfish. But the pike and bass were not in evidence. We learned when we came in that a section in New York along the Neversink River Valley had had very heavy rains. The Neversink empties into the Delaware just a few miles above where we were fishing.

Trap shoot... this Sunday at 1 p. m., over the Edgely Rod & Gun Club traps. Fifty target. Lewis class. Plenty of ammunition on hand. All shooters welcome.

An opportunity... next Monday evening, June 23, the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will hold a practice bait casting session in Grundy's Park. Here is an excellent opportunity for those fishermen who want to learn how to use a bait casting rod. Competent and expert instruction will be given free.

Voltz Nine Defeats Hibernians, 11 to 3

Scoring in every frame except the sixth, the Voltz-Texaco batters increased their lead in the second division of the Bristol Suburban League, subduing the Hibernians, 11-3, last evening, on Memorial Park field.

The Voltz-men had a total of 11 hits and were led at the plate by their hurler, "Jimmy" Cooper, who had three for five. On the mound, Cooper held the Hibs to four hits, two going to John Lavenburg. Tom Waldron started on the hill for the Hibs with Schriber finishing. The Hibs scored all their tallies in the sixth on a walk, a hit batter, two errors, a fielder's choice, and hit by Lavenburg.

The Ollers counted two in the first on two walks, a sacrifice, and hit by Linck and clinched the game in the third on an error, singles by Black and Cooper, and a two-bagger by "Vic" Rockhill.

1. Complete air-tightness with easily removed inserts.

2. Ventilation in any desired amount.

When you see the patented features of the Hunter window demonstrated you'll realize instantly why it is so superior. Ask for free demonstration.

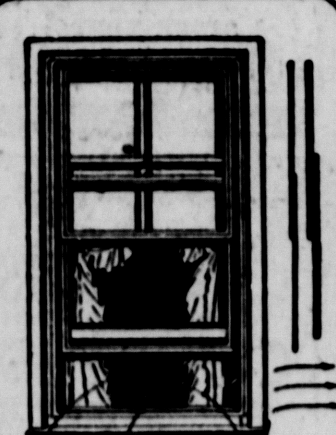

When you buy storm windows you want above all air-tightness. A storm window which admits air when closed, even in a wind storm, fails in its prime function.

You want to change from storm windows to summer screens quickly and easily, and nothing could be simpler to remove and replace than Hunter inserts.

You want ventilation as you like it, and the Hunter Window gives you complete ventilation control, from a small crack to any desired amount.
